Free Trial (Short-term) Members

Free Trial (Short-term) Members

Free trial (short-term) members are covered under the Water Polo Canada (WPC) insurance policy on a one-time basis for a maximum of fourteen (14) consecutive days. After the trial period is complete, registrants must register for one of the available divisions (registration categories) in WPC's National Registration Database for continued coverage.

This coverage is intended for those individuals who are trying the sport for the first time. As such, an individual can only be considered a free trial member once.

Any individual who has previously completed a free trial may not complete an additional trial, regardless of whether it is with a different water polo club. These individuals will be required to register with a club prior to participating in any water polo activities.
